RE: Request for Advisory Opinion

Dear Messrs. Evans and Emadi:

This is a request pursuant to O.C.G.A. § 21-5-6(b)(13) that the Georgia Government Transparency and Campaign Finance Commission (the “Commission”) issue an advisory opinion or opinions on questions within the Commission’s jurisdiction described as follows.

Background. The Government Transparency and Campaign Finance Act, O.C.G.A. § 21-5-1 et seq. (the “Act”) requires public disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures related to the seeking of public office, as well as of significant private interests of public officers and officials, in furtherance of ensuring fair elections and protecting the integrity of the democratic process. O.C.G.A. § 21-5-2. According to the Act, neither a candidate¹ nor a campaign committee² “may lawfully accept a campaign contribution”³

¹ A candidate is “an individual who seeks nomination for election or election to any public office, whether or not such an individual is elected; and a person shall be deemed to seek nomination or election if such person has taken necessary action under the laws of this state to qualify such person for nomination for election or election or has received any contributions or made any expenditures in pursuit of such nomination or election or has given such person's consent for such person's campaign committee to receive contributions or make expenditures with a view to bringing about such person's nomination for election or election to such office.” O.C.G.A. § 21-5-3(4).

² A campaign committee can include a candidate, and “means the candidate, person, or committee which accepts contributions or makes expenditures designed to bring about the nomination or election of an individual to any elected office. The term “campaign committee” also means any person or committee which accepts contributions or makes expenditures designed to bring about the recall of a public officer holding elective office or to oppose the recall of a public officer holding elective office or any person or any committee which accepts contributions or makes expenditures designed to bring about the approval or rejection by the voters of any proposed constitutional amendment, a state-wide referendum, or a proposed question which is to appear on the ballot in this state or in a county or a municipal election in this state.” O.C.G.A. § 21-5-3(2).

³ A contribution is a “gift, subscription, membership, loan, forgiveness of debt, advance or deposit of money or anything of value conveyed or transferred for the purpose of influencing the nomination for election or election of any person for office, bringing about the recall of a public officer holding elective office or opposing the recall of a until the candidate has filed with the [C]ommission a declaration of intention to accept campaign contributions” (“DOI”). O.C.G.A. § 21-5-30(g). Neither the Act nor the Rules expressly prohibit candidate or campaign committee expenditures⁴ prior to the candidate’s filing of a DOI. Rather, the rules and regulations implementing the Act, Ga. Comp. R. & Regs. R. 189-1-.01 et seq. (the “Rules”) provide that:

- (1) No person or campaign committee may accept campaign contributions, including personal loans, prior to the filing of a Declaration of Intention to Accept Campaign Contributions.
- (2) Neither a candidate who is already a public officer nor his or her campaign committee may lawfully accept a campaign contribution for a campaign for a different office unless and until that candidate has filed a Declaration of Intention to Accept Campaign Contributions for that different office.
- (3) A candidate may not provide a personal loan to his or her campaign prior to filing a Declaration of Intention to Accept Campaign Contributions.

Rule 189-6-.10. Commission staff pleadings have asserted without citation that these provisions are intended to protect would-be donors to candidates and campaign committees from donating things of value to a campaign that does not exist, without addressing whether or how these provisions relate to vendors.

The Act and the Rules are silent as to whether a person considering a campaign for public office may incur, accept, or solicit services by vendors relating to such consideration before filing a DOI for that public office. This void is particularly acute with regards to the acceptance or solicitation of legal counsel, when, unsurprisingly, a principal purpose of seeking such counsel is to avoid any inadvertent violations of the Act or the Rules by the candidate or campaign committee.

The Act, the Rules, and the Commission’s prior Advisory Opinions also do not address whether Georgia law permits vendors to provide services to a candidate prior to the candidate’s filing of a DOI – public officer holding elective office, or the influencing of voter approval or rejection of a proposed constitutional amendment, a state-wide referendum, or a proposed question which is to appear on the ballot in this state or in a county or a municipal election in this state. The term specifically shall not include the value of personal services performed by persons who serve without compensation from any source and on a voluntary basis. The term "contribution" shall include other forms of payment made to candidates for office or who hold office when such fees and compensation made can be reasonably construed as a campaign contribution designed to encourage or influence a candidate or public officer holding elective office. The term "contribution" shall also encompass transactions wherein a qualifying fee required of the candidate is furnished or paid by anyone other than the candidate.” O.C.G.A. § 21-5-3(7).

⁴ An expenditure is “a purchase, payment, distribution, loan, advance, deposit, or any transfer of money or anything of value made for the purpose of influencing the nomination for election or election of any person, bringing about the recall of a public officer holding elective office or opposing the recall of a public officer holding elective office, or the influencing of voter approval or rejection of a proposed constitutional amendment, a state-wide referendum, or a proposed question which is to appear on the ballot in this state or in a county or a municipal election in this state. The term specifically shall not include the value of personal services performed by persons who serve without compensation from any source and on a voluntary basis. The term ‘expenditure’ shall also include the payment of a qualifying fee for and on behalf of a candidate.” O.C.G.A. § 21-5-3(12).

and thus prior to the existence or operation of the campaign committee – where those services are not invoiced or billed to the candidate or the campaign committee until a later date in the ordinary course of the vendor’s business, after the filing of the DOI. Likewise, these authorities do not address how services like these (assuming they are permitted) should be included on disclosure reports filed by the candidate or campaign committee, or whether services provided prior to the filing of the DOI must be invoiced separately from those provided after the DOI in the same calendar month. As a matter of practice, campaigns appear to regularly accept (and to disclose campaign expenditures for) such services at the time the services are invoiced and paid for, rather than when the services were rendered. See, e.g., July 10, 2017 CCDR, Kemp for Governor, Inc., Filer ID C2017000227 (enclosed as Exhibit A) (providing for web development, field consulting, media production, signage, credit card transaction fees, and legal services expenditures within 30 days of filing of DOI on March 31, 2017).

Candidates and campaign committees perceive seeking legal counsel, preparing to activate a website and accept contributions, developing logos, and associated expenditures as necessary components of planning and running a modern campaign. Campaigns do not spring, and never have sprung, fully-formed from the earth upon the filing of a DOI.⁵

The impossibility of a non-existent campaign committee accepting a contribution or making an expenditure, as well as the improbability of a potential vendor being duped into providing services for a candidate who has no intention of seeking office, suggests little if any benefit is gained in barring a candidate from making informed decisions in preparing to launch a campaign. As the Act and the Rules do not state that a potential candidate is prohibited, in advance of filing a DOI, from meeting with legal counsel, interacting with potential vendors, or engaging in other activities consistent with deciding whether to launch a campaign, candidates, campaign committees, and their progenitors would benefit from Commission guidance clarifying the permissibility of these activities, and on any constraints the Commission deems necessary to further the aim of transparency with regard to such activities.

In addition to the aforementioned issue, the Commission is requested to provide guidance as to whether candidates and campaign committees are prohibited from utilizing campaign funds to pay expenses associated with meeting space and conference needs. The Act provides that campaign contributions are to be used to defray “ordinary and necessary expenses,” including without limitation a loan from the candidate to the candidate’s campaign committee and expenditures for qualifying fees, office costs and rent, lodging, equipment, travel, advertising, postage, staff salaries, consultants, files storage, polling, special events, volunteers, reimbursements to volunteers, repayment of loans received consistent with the Act, contributions to nonprofit organizations, flowers for birthdays and funerals, and attorney fees connected to and in the furtherance of the campaign. O.C.G.A. §§ 21-5-3(18), 21-5-33(a).

The Act, the Rules, and the Commission's prior Advisory Opinions are silent on whether expenditures for access to secure meeting space while traveling or otherwise unconnected to a specific "special event[.]" are or will be considered "ordinary and necessary expenses." As a matter of practice, campaigns appear to regularly disclose expenditures for secure meeting space while traveling or unconnected to a specific "special event[.]" on campaign contribution disclosure reports. See, e.g., Compilation of CCDDR entries containing Commerce Club expenditures, 2006-2020, for, inter alia, Ralston for Representative Committee, Inc., Comm. To Re-elect Justice Robert Benham, Inc., and Friends of Ralph Hudgens (enclosed as Exhibit B) (disclosing campaign expenditures for Commerce Club membership).

By way of further example and as a matter of public record and common sense, public officials and candidates for public office commonly must discuss private matters via telephone or other technological means while in the midst of required travel to perform campaign functions, or otherwise away from the campaign's offices. Candidates and campaign committees perceive memberships associated with quiet, secure meeting space to be ordinary and necessary expenses of a modern campaign. They would benefit from guidance on the permissibility of such expenditures, including the requirements for disclosure of pre-candidacy memberships and loyalty status providing access to such meeting space without the need for a separate expenditure, and any constraints consistent with the Act and the Rules the Commission thinks necessary.

Questions. The undersigned respectfully requests that the Commission issue an advisory opinion on the following questions:

- (1) May a person considering whether to become a candidate pay for, accept payment for, or accept the conveyance or transfer of services relating to his consideration of whether to seek nomination for or election to public office?
- (2) May a candidate, or a person considering whether to become a candidate, solicit or accept legal counsel as to compliance with state and federal law, including without limitation the Act and the Rules, prior to the filing of a DOI?
- (3) May a candidate lawfully accept or solicit services from vendors prior to the candidate's filing of a DOI when such services are not invoiced or billed to the candidate or to the campaign committee until a later date in the ordinary course of the vendor's business?
- (4) If the answer to (3) is a qualified or unqualified "yes," how should services like those described in (3) be dated and described on required campaign contribution disclosure reports filed by the candidate or campaign committee, e.g., should the vendor be required to segregate services provided prior to the filing of a DOI from those provided after the filing of a DOI, even if occurring within the same calendar month?
- (5) May a candidate or campaign committee incur expenditures for organization memberships, including conference centers, dining clubs, and similar entities, that provide secure meeting space as a benefit of membership as an ordinary and necessary expense of a campaign?

- (6) May a candidate or campaign committee incur expenditures for organization memberships, including without limitation “sky clubs,” “admiral clubs,” and airport or station lounges that provide secure meeting space while traveling as a benefit of membership, as an ordinary and necessary expense of a campaign?

Thank you for your attention and consideration regarding this request.

Very truly yours,
